PROFILE

I am a full stack web developer (MERN Stack) and a competitive programmer. I grab things very quickly, relate everything to the real world. I want to work on company's goals which will eventually help me in building myself and achieve success together.

I am always eager to learn and implement new things, and yes being a sport programmer, I love using my analytical skills wherever possible.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Being a fresher, I don't have a professional work experience, but I have some projects which showcase my skills pretty well.
